Girls Trip 101

FIND YOUR RESORT

So you have been planning a girls getaway for several months (years?) and have finally found a date that works for everyone! Congratulations that might just be the part of the planning that is the most difficult!

So whats next on the long list of things to sort out out? Money, transfers, the resort, social media rules (no snapchat...what goes on the girls trip, stays on the girls trip...)

Well first lets talk budget. Always the most contentious (after finding a date...) as no doubt everyone has a different idea of what is 'reasonable' for a girls trip. So get that out of the way up front and work to find a budget that works for everyone.

Depending on how far ahead you are planning you could set up an instant saver account and get everyone to set up standing orders to soften the blow of having to shell out the whole cost up front!

Now you have a budget agreed, you need to decide on a location and resort that meets all your needs - which could be no mean feat depending on how many people are going and what everyone is looking for. Well obviously, you could use www.findyourresort.co.uk to mix and match different resort criteria to narrow down your options.

Think about what type of holiday you want - chill vibe or party time? Do you want to be spending most of the day on a sun bed or taking in the culture of the local area.

So once you have agreed on your resort, get it booked to lock in the date! Make sure you organise travel insurance, how you are getting to the airport, whether you want to splash out for an airport lounge and check that very one has a valid passport!

If you are looking for some inspiration for a girls trip, we have rounded up 10 resorts in various locations and at different price ranges. We have personally visited the Tui Sensatori resorts in this guide and can highlight recommend, and the others are all on our 'to do list!'

GUIDE - HOW TO

FIND YOUR RESORT

This guide has been created for you to use when looking for your perfect holiday resort in the Canaries with a swim up room

So have a look at all the options and then decide how you want to book - with a travel agent (see my list of recommended agents on www.findyourresort.co.uk) or book it yourself through a travel booking site or direct with the resort!

Some guidance for the information on each resort:

Star rating is taken from hotels own website rating or from popular travel booking sites.

Separate sleeping areas means there is either a door or divider between the main bed and supplementary beds

Kids club are from aged 4+ unless otherwise noted

Swim up room means direct access from your room to a shared or private pool. Where there is a private pool option, this will be noted

Kids pool means either a separate pool for the kids or a segregated section of a larger pool

Organised activities indicates where there are resort organised daytime activities such as water games, fitness classes etc

Walking distance to beach or local area indicates distance up to 1km

Short drive indicates less than 15km in distance

Maximum number in a room doesn't include any infants in cots that may be permitted in a room

I hope you find my guide useful and that you find YOUR perfect resort!!
